

Today's Parent*: EDITORIAL INTERN

You are a magazine and web fanatic who is excited about learning the ropes. You're active online, and read voraciously. You're known for your dependability and attention to detail, you have excellent oral and written communication skills, and you're super organized.

At Today's Parent, you'll be given the opportunity to:

- Build online articles and galleries, including selecting photos and working on SEO
- Fact-check print and online stories
- Assist editors with story research
- Pitch and write online stories
- Call in products and reach out to PR people
- Light editorial-related admin duties
- Help on photo/video shoots (as needed)

Internships are reserved for students enrolled in an accredited post-secondary program that requires a work placement for completion of your diploma/degree.

Ideally, you are available to work for six weeks, full time (M-F); or, for 3 months, 2-3 days per week. Other arrangements may work, too; there's some flexibility depending on course requirements. Internships are on-going; start and end dates are flexible.

Please send your resume and cover letter (with clippings, if you have them) to Kim Shiffman, Managing Editor, at kim.shiffman@tpg.rogers.com with the subject line "Editorial Intern." Only short-listed candidates will be contacted for an interview.
