

Internships available

TVO's current-affairs coverage engages Ontarians on issues that matter.

At TVO.org and on our social media channels, we share our high-quality journalism and balanced, in-depth Ontario perspectives via articles, videos, and podcasts such as The Agenda on Politics With John Michael McGrath.

Working with our multimedia digital team, you will have the opportunity to contribute by writing, pitching, researching, shooting, scripting, recording and/or editing, and you will receive guidance and feedback from our team of editors.

This is an unpaid position that must fulfil an academic requirement. Placements are for a minimum of four weeks and are available year-round.

Our offices are at 2180 Yonge St., just south of Eglinton Ave. We also offer the option of working in connection with one of our Ontario Hubs, located around the province.

Interested in applying? Send a cover letter, CV, and links to your work to:

Kathy Vey, Executive Producer, Digital, at kvey@tvo.org.

