

National Post/Financial Post Internships

What we offer: We value new talent — as evidenced by our ongoing relationships with former interns, as well as young “Posties” we have mentored who are now staffing media organizations across the country.

Our current placements put students in the thick of a digital-first newsroom which reaches millions of readers across the country. You will do fast-paced web posting and reporting, with opportunities to contribute across platforms. You may be assigned to video, data journalism, interactives and features on topics ranging from current affairs to business to lifestyle. Interns are also rotated through two or more sections depending on their aptitudes and interests. Student placements are unpaid.

What we’re looking for: rabid curiosity, an entrepreneurial “can-do” spirit and a passion for telling amazing stories in new ways.

How to apply:

Send a Word document to jtraves@postmedia.com with:

- A note telling us about your areas of interest and expertise
- A short CV
- Three writing samples (copied into the file, please — no links)
- Links to any video or interactive portfolios

We take on interns year-round but are currently focused on applicants for fall placements. Because of the volume of applicants, only those selected for interviews or placements will be contacted.

Fall/winter deadline: Oct 12

Spring/summer deadline: Jan 11
